About Non-GAAP Measures

In addition to financial results determined in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States (“GAAP”), this presentation presents non-GAAP financial measures. Management believes that Adjusted EBITDA provides useful information to investors regarding our financial condition and results of operations because it helps facilitate analysis of operating performance. In particular, we view Adjusted EBITDA as an important indicator of performance. We define EBITDA as net income, plus (i) depreciation and amortization expense, (ii) interest (income) expense and (iii) income tax expense. We define Adjusted EBITDA as EBITDA plus (i) stock-based compensation expense and (ii) certain non-cash items and extraordinary, unusual or non-recurring gains, losses or expenses. Adjusted EBITDA attributable to Solaris excludes the 49.9% non-controlling interest share of Stateline JV's Adjusted EBITDA attributable to our partner in the Stateline JV.

Although management believes the aforementioned non-GAAP financial measures are good tools for internal use and the investment community in evaluating our overall financial performance, the foregoing non-GAAP financial measures should not be considered as a substitute for or superior to other measures of financial performance prepared in accordance with GAAP. However, no reconciliations of these non-GAAP measure to their most directly comparable GAAP measures are available without unreasonable efforts. This is due to the inherent difficulty of forecasting the timing or amount of various reconciling items that would impact the most directly comparable forward-looking GAAP financial measures, that have not yet occurred, are out of our control and/or cannot be reasonably predicted given we have not completed any reporting processes for the periods presented.
